San Francisco, Calif. — San Francisco’s favorite night of free entertainment — the 9th annual Yerba Buena Night, The Performance of a Nighttime!— unveiled its wildest lineup yet with 30 performers like Singer/Songwriter Victoria George, the US Navy Band, Grupo Samba Rio, A.C.T. Youth Conservatory, Syn Circus, Mission Delirium and more. The memorable evening of music, dance and performance immerses Jessie Square and Yerba Buena Lane, from Mission to Market streets, on October 12, 2019 from 6 p.m.-10 p.m.

“There’s no other free event in the city like it with so many entertaining performers of all backgrounds and ages,” said Richard Ciccarone, Yerba Buena Night director. “It’s like going to a multi-stage concert, dance performance and circus. There’s country, rock and jazz along with dancers, aerialists and roving singers that creates an event you’ll be telling people about the next day.”

Multiple stages. Roving performers. It’s a one-night festival that provides a high profile platform for local artists of all backgrounds, like the San Francisco Neo Futurists, The GRRRRRL Bridage, Fauxnique and Juice Box and Theatre Flamenco, among the eclectic acts. See the entire lineup is at www.ybnight.org and a video of Yerba Buena Night highlights on YouTube.

The Yerba Buena Community Benefit District presents Yerba Buena Night to highlight the neighborhood’s vaunted cultural roots that has highest concentration of museums, galleries and performance venues in San Francisco and hundreds of great places for dining, imbibing and entertainment. Yerba Buena Night is sponsored by the SFMTA, MJM Management Group, Impark, San Francisco Media Company and the Yerba Buena Gardens Festival.
